Applications are now being accepted for the UCLA Film & Television Archive's Visiting Researcher Stipend for 2012.

A stipend in the amount of $3,000 will be awarded to offset travel and lodging expenses associated with an extended research visit to the UCLA Film & Television Archive. Scholars from all academic disciplines are encouraged to apply.

A unique resource for media study, the UCLA Film & Television Archive is one of the largest repositories of moving image materials in the world. The Archive holds more than 200,000 films produced from the 1890s to the present, as well as local and network television programming, and 27 million feet of newsreel footage produced between 1919 and 1971.
